

GETTING TO KNOW...

EYE TRAK

"Where are they coming from?"

This question has often been asked by F&B Outlets in Shopping Malls in Singapore. This is because the intruding Roof Rats are agile and highly intelligent. Detecting their point of entry is of foremost importance in pest management.

Now with the help of digital technology Aardwolf Pestkare is able to install a wireless network of mini-video cameras that is activated when an intruding rat enters an outlet, anytime of the day. This activity is then recorded and a video is sent to our Technician's mobile phone and he immediately attends to the incursion.

Success comes when our Technician is able to trap and remove the rat. This skill calls for training and commitment on the part of our Technician to create a rodent-free environment.

So the next time this question is asked, the answer could well be: "To find out, call Eye Trak from Aardwolf Pestkare".

A video grab of a rat intrusion.
